BOND ISSUE NEEDED FOR IMPORTANT SCHOOL WORK

Indications point to ratification of the proposed $20,000 school bond issue at the special election next Wednesday by a good margin. But there is no certainty about it and friends of the school should bear in mind the fact that for every vote cast against the bonds two must be cast for them. In other words, it requires a two-thirds vote to authorize the bonds.

Practically the only opposition to the bond issue seems to be based on personalities, chiefly resulting from disagreements or other issues. Persons taking such a stand should remember that the school and the school children are chiefly concerned in this matter. Defeat of the bonds will injure them rather than any member of the board of trustees.

Some individuals have allowed the bitterness of the recent campaign over the sanitation ordinance to influence them, because of the attitude of one of the trustees in that contest. They should remember that the school trustees did not all take the same stand on that question. Furthermore, the improvements proposed to be effected with the $20,000 had been planned almost in their entirety by other members of the board before this member went on the board.

So far as expenditure of the money is concerned the taxpayers are fully protected. The experience of Prof. Pierce should be valuable. During his administration of the state normal school about $2,000,000 was expended under his supervision, much of it for buildings and improvements.

It has been necessary to turn applicants away from the newly established kindergarten, owing to lack of accommodations. This department of the school, recently established upon petition of parents as required by state law, is now operating under a handicap in rented quarters at the Woman's Club house. Is it economy to pay rent for the kindergarten? If the bonds are defeated, how long will the children be handicapped in their work by reason of unsuitable quarters?

The following communication has been received from Prof. Pierce in regard to the matter:

SUPPORT THE SCHOOL BONDS

To Friends of the Public School:

I believe the unanimous sentiment in the community is that the school should be raised to the highest possible standard. Notwithstanding this, I have learned with sorrow that personal feeling engendered by the controversy in regard to the sanitation is influencing some of our citizens in their attitude towards the school bonds. Let me ask these friends if it is fair or just or sensible to let a personal matter or a question in no way related to the school to affect the welfare of our children?

Four years ago residents of the district, knowing my work of over thirty years as a teacher in many varied positions asked me to serve on the board. This I consented to do because I felt it my duty. Having no children of my own to benefit by the school, my feeling was exclusively one of service for the public good, mingled with a little sentiment because of the fact that I had taught the then small school in this district nearly thirty years ago.

On taking my position as a member of the board, I found the school in a deplorable condition in every respect. I have given much time, thought and effort, oftentimes at the expense of ease and peace of mind, in trying to raise the standard of work and give patrons full service for their money. In all my efforts, I have received the hearty cooperation of every member of the board who has served with me.

Instead of a by-word the school is now pointed to as one of the best small elementary schools in the country. The teaching force has been strengthened, the preparation of candidates for the high school raised a hundred per cent, the morals of the school elevated and the property of the district better looked after. Hand work has been introduced into all the lower grades, sloyd and sewing in the higher.

This year because of the encouragement of the community the kindergarten and a department of home economics have been established. The kindergarten is now temporarily located in the Woman's Club House in quarters not at all suitable and at an added expense for rent. This will have to be abandoned if our bonds do not carry and thus allow us to build a home for the school. Cooking and sewing are now being conducted in the basement of the school, which I am sure patrons will not wish to have continued.

A building for home economics is absolutely necessary if we are to accomplish the greatest good from the work. The present toilets are not at all sanitary and their continuance in the present state is a crime against growing childhood.

The only item involving the proposed expense that might be considered by some to be unnecessary is the assembly room and gymnasium. In reply let me point out that the school has no common meeting place and no place where gymnastic exercises can be held in stormy weather. Moreover, this building is intended for a public hall where any meeting of public import or for public amusement and pleasure may be held free of expense.

Even with all the improvements completed as contemplated, our school will be much cheaper in appearance than are many of the same size in the county. Did we not have the present building which is too good in every way to tear down, we would not hesitate to vote forty to fifty thousand dollars to build a splendid concrete structure as many other small communities are doing. This, however, would be very foolish and wasteful.

The vital thing is room and equipment for work. In this few towns of the size of ours will have the advantage if present plans can be consummated.

In the expenditures of the bond money, the board is required to call for sealed bids which must be opened in public. All bills are audited by the board in full and not by any one member. The books are open at all times for the inspection of tax payers. We guarantee that the money shall be spent honestly and, so far as our judgment commands, wisely and well, solely for the benefit of the school and the community.

Friends, I appeal to you to drop all differences and come out on next Wednesday and work for the moral, physical, social and economic welfare of our children.

EDWARD T. PIERCE,
President Board of Trustees.

HASTINGS HEIR DIES

Sister of Ranch Owns Passes Away and Leaves Nothing to Brother

Lizzie Hastings Holme, sister of Charles Hastings who owns the big ranch of something like 1500 acres just west of Sierra Madre, passed away in London some time since. A copy of her will has been filed recently in New York for probate. S. T. Clover, writing in The Graphic (Los Angeles), comments as follows on the family and the distribution of the estate:

"When Charley Hastings left Los Angeles last March to go to London to be with his sister who was ill, he expressed much concern for her condition and in nowise betrayed the fact that brother and sister were at cross purposes. The latter died in London, June 20, and a copy of her will has recently been filed for probate in the surrogate's office in New York. Under the provisions the husband of the deceased, Leicester Holme, and her brother Charles are cut off without a cent of the estate. The will directs that the estate, which is a large one, shall go to aunts, cousins, servants and friends.

There are several bequests of $100,000 and quite a number of $10,000 each. Four or five servants will receive 5,000 each, while one, Helen Knudson, will get $20,000. Mrs. Holme remembers in the will also the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the New York Foundling Hospital, the Five Points House of Industry and the City Hospital of Los Angeles. In the last named institution is to be endowed a bed to be known as the Lizzie Hastings' bed. Ten thousand dollars will go for this purpose.

Charley Hastings Denied Participation

"In view of the fact that Charley was sincerely affected by his sister's illness—I saw copies of several cablegrams that he sent and received on the subject—the subjoined paragraph of his sister's will is the more surprising. It reads: 'I have made the above disposition of my property conscious of the fact that I have a living husband and also other relatives for whom I have made no provision in this my last will and testament, and it is my expressed determination that they shall not have any share or benefit under this my last will and testament and shall not in any manner share in my estate.' Of course, Charley does not need any bequest, he is wealthy in his own right, but the tenor of the wording denotes feeling hitherto unsuspected. But what of the City Hospital of Los Angeles? We have no such institution. There is, of course, the County Hospital. Possibly that is what is meant, but it is doubtful.

Founder of the Hastings' Wealth

Old-timers here well remember Charles C. Hastings, the father of Lizzie Hastings Holme and Charley Hastings. He was a pioneer merchant of San Francisco and although he never lived in Los Angeles he paid frequent visits to Southern California and had property interests here. The big ranch at Sierra Madre, now owned by Char-

CLUB YEAR TO OPEN

First Fall Session of Woman's Club to Be Held Next Monday

The first regular meeting of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club year will be held in the Club House on Monday, October 12, opening with a short business session at 2:30, the program for the afternoon commencing promptly at 3:00.

The committee in charge has been so fortunate as to secure the services of Miss Helen Louise Kimball for the major portion of this program. Miss Kimball's recitations and stories in dialect last year are vividly remembered by those who heard her, and she is sure to be quite as entertaining this year. Miss Verona Yule, the talented young pianist who is doing such remarkable work under Herr Becker, will render two beautiful selections, and Mrs. Harry Hawhurst, whose delightful voice is too well known to Sierra Madre to need comment, will sing two old New England songs in appropriate costume.

After the programme there will be an informal reception in the club parlors and refreshments will be served. It is hoped that the new members will take advantage of this opportunity to become acquainted with their fellow members.

The programme in detail follows: Fantasia in D Minor (Mozart) Miss Yule A Story of the Southwest: Sketches of the Habits ..... Miss Kimball Greig's "To Spring" ..... Miss Yule A Cure for Homesickness, Miss Kimball Two Old New England Songs (in costume) ..... Mrs. Hawhurst A Group of New England Impressions ..... Miss Kimball

FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Honoring Miss Hazel Hill whose marriage to George B. Mordridge takes place October 10, Mrs. Joseph P. Copp and Mrs. William Hunter gave a delightful reception at the Hunter home on Woodlawn avenue, Los Angeles, last Saturday afternoon. The rooms were charmingly decorated in yellow and green. The guests numbered about fifty, being principally U. S. C. friends of Miss Hill, and their mothers. A diversion was furnished when the guests were set to sewing on various articles for a closet outfit, such as clothes hangers and dress covers. Later the reception developed into a "dining room shower" when the guest of honor was thoroughly surprised with a great variety of pretty and useful articles for the new home. A delicious two-course luncheon was served. Guests from Sierra Madre included Mrs. Howard Hill, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Mordridge and Miss Alice Tufts.

CAMP FAME SPREADS

From faraway Singapore comes a note to J. M. Beard asking for information regarding Sturtevant's Camp. The writer says he expects to spend a portion of next year in Southern California and wants information on which to plan his stay. He says nothing to indicate whether he has been in this state before, and Mr. Beard is wondering how the fame of Sturtevant's Camp has spread to the other side of the world.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

Next Monday evening will be the regular night for the October meeting of the Board of Trade. The organization has been taking the customary summer vacation, holding no meeting in August or September. There are plenty of big things to be done during the coming year and Monday evening's meeting should see an unusually large attendance.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Church of the Ascension, the Rev. Dr. Geo. H. Cornell, rector. Vested choir. Eighteenth Sunday after Trinity. Sunday school 9:45 a. m. Morning prayer and sermon 11 a. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

ley Hastings, was one of his early purchases.

Jackson A. Graves, vice-president of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank, well remembers the elder Hastings when he was the head of the clothing firm of C. C. Hastings & Co., whose store was in the Lick House building. In the early 60's the firm was known as Hueston, Hastings & Co.; later, Hueston retired. As a lad Jackson Graves bought his first suit of clothes at the Hastings store, plotted thither by the father of Seth Mann, who was interested in the business. While the clothing house yielded large profits the big estate that Mr. Hastings left to his son and daughter was in the main derived from his shrewd investments in California realty, both in San Francisco and Southern California.

Charley Hastings is a wealthy bachelor and his sister, realizing that he was well provided for, elected to divide her estate among those in greater need of assistance. She left no children and had long been separated from her husband who lives in New York.

Rainfall Report

Rainfall figures for the season of 1913-1914 have been completed and furnished to the News by John G. Blumer, and the monthly totals for the year have been added to the 25-year table compiled by Mr. Blumer. The total for the year from October 1, 1913, to September 30, 1914, was 45.16 inches. Only one other season in the past twenty-six shows a greater precipitation, the record for 1889-1890 being 48.61 inches. The heavy fall of last season raised the 25-year average by nearly an inch. For the 25 years ending September 30, 1913, the average was 25.34 inches. Adding the total for the past year brings the average for the 26 years just ended to 26.10 inches.

The fall of 20.63 inches for January and 15.56 inches for February established new records for those months respectively. This 26-year table prepared by Mr. Blumer is one of the most interesting privately kept weather records in Southern California. Extra copies of the News will be available for those who wish to secure it to send to friends.

For a dry country, a considerable amount of water is shown to have fallen in Sierra Madre during the period covered. The total of 678.64 inches or 56.55 feet would make quite a difference in the appearance of things if it had merely piled up on the landscape. In Los Angeles the seasonal average is about 16 inches. The difference in the totals during that period would thus be 56.55 feet as against about 35 feet.

The first rain for the present season began with light sprinkles on the evening of the 2nd inst. The recordable rainfall fell after midnight on the 2nd and continued intermittently during part of the 3rd, making a total of 0.28 inch.

The average precipitation in the month of October, over a period of 26 years was 1.26 inches. The highest record of 10.52 inches was made in October, 1889, while in 1891, 1903 and 1906 no rain fell in the month of October.

MOVIE BARGAIN NIGHT

Next Wednesday evening will be the occasion of another bargain night for the moving pictures at the Club House. Prices will be 10 cents for adults and five cents for children. The reduced prices last Wednesday night resulted in a large increase in attendance and if the attendance next Wednesday night seems to justify it the reduced prices will be made permanent for the Wednesday night performances. On Saturday night, the 10th, there will be two vaudeville acts in addition to the regular five reels of pictures. The prices will be 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

CITY TRUSTEES MEET

Carlton J. Pegler was sworn in as city treasurer at last evening's meeting of the city trustees, having been elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Max Wolff. The trustees have adopted a resolution clearly defining the duties attaching to the treasurer's office, but decided not to attempt to secure for the position one who would also serve as accountant and assistant to the city clerk.

There is a possibility that William Mulholland will be secured to give advice as to the best method of developing a greater water supply for the city. The water committee will secure information as to Mr. Mulholland's charges for such service.

Chairman Blumer reported that he had been visited by officers of the Board of Trade who requested action on the widening of Central Avenue at those places where the property line is not uniform. The trustees recalled the amounts that were reported to be demanded when the matter was under consideration last spring and decided that owing to the fact that no such plans had been included in the budget the city was not in position to pay for the improvement out of funds on hand or available this year. The only recourse would seem to be formation of an assessment district.

F. P. Sperry and C. C. West attempted to interest the board in a project to carry storm water east on Central Avenue as far as the Little Santa Anita wash instead of allowing it to follow the old course along the west side of the arroyo and through their property. They said if the board felt favorably inclined they would attempt to interest the Arcadia trustees to the extent of holding Sierra Madre blameless. Various members of the board of trustees said there had been no change in the course of the water on East Central by the city, and that the proposal contemplated carrying the water several hundred feet beyond the city limits and into Arcadia which Sierra Madre could not do. The board promised to consider the matter, however, but as immediate action was desired to forestall the beginning of the rainy season there seemed little hope of accomplishing anything.

HOME OF TRUTH

Devotional service Sunday, October 11, at 3:30 p. m., at the Home of Truth, corner Auburn and Carter. Everyone cordially welcome. Harriet C. Hamor conducting service.

Sunday school at 2 o'clock. All children welcome.

Healing meeting Friday at 8 p. m. All welcome.

VALLEY CITIES UNITE

Associated Chambers of Commerce Are Developing a Strong Organization

That the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley is to become a prime factor in the future growth of this district is indicated by the extraordinary interest being taken in the executive meetings of that body. The representatives from every city and town in the territory embraced are imbued with an excellent spirit of optimism.

The second meeting, held at Baldwin Park, Tuesday evening, October 6, was attended by twenty representatives. A luncheon was served in the roof garden of the Shults Block. D. J. Shults as host to the meeting left nothing to be desired by the inner man. A quartet of Baldwin Park belles furnished music during the luncheon.

The business of the meeting was opened by D. J. Shults with a report of the conference between the Storm Water Committee and Board of Supervisors. Committee was advised that the Board of Engineers appointed by the county would not complete their surveys and plans in time for any construction work to be done this season. They were further advised that any improvements made by the various districts could not be accepted by the county, as the work in all probability would not conform to the engineers' plans for the district. The county is planning a very complete storm drainage system in which they will ask for state and federal aid. The probable outlay for this purpose will be $10,000,000.

Mountain roads was the next subject for discussion.

H. A. Miller, chairman of the Orange Boosters Club of Covina, told of the formal opening of San Bernardino County's crest road. This new highway, one hundred miles in length, extends from San Bernardino to Pine Knot Lodge and around Bear Lake, climbing to an altitude of eight thousand feet, winding and twisting through a wilderness of scenic beauty, yet conforming to a six per cent grade. Citing this road as an example of the benefits to the section, by bringing the beauties of the mountains and canyons within reach of motorists, Mr. Miller urged that such attention be given our own mountains.

J. L. Mathews, chairman of the Los Angeles County Beautification Committee for 1915, reported on the progress made in planting highways. Rose trellises are being rapidly set out and it is expected the plants will be in blossom by the first of January.

Short talks were made by other representatives on the advantages to be derived through the efforts of the Associated Chambers of Commerce. Ten strong committees were appointed to handle the various branches of work outlined. C. W. Jones of Sierra Madre was appointed on the membership committee.

The next meeting of this body will be held at Claremont, Tuesday evening, October 27. Luncheon will be served at 6:30 at the Claremont Inn. All representatives are urged to be present and bring with them a delegation from their own commercial organization.

A. Reuter, a youth operating a small printing outfit at Doucet's store, was arrested last week on a charge of printing and circulating obscene literature and photographs. Both were described as being filthy in the extreme, and many have been found in possession of young boys about town. A hearing was held before Recorder Perry early in the week and the case was continued, the offense being within the scope of the district attorney's office.

Mrs. W. J. Lawless entertained on Wednesday with a bridge party, honoring Mrs. Brewster of Cheyenne, Wyoming, who is spending the winter in Sierra Madre. There were four tables of auction bridge. Other ladies were invited in later for tea.

HALLOWE'EN

Hallowe'en is coming!

The end of October is not far away—at any rate not too far for planning Hallowe'en festivities. The News Printery has a lot of things which will help.

Hallowe'en place cards.

Hallowe'en decorations in crepe paper and novelties.

Crepe paper caps.

Plain crepe paper in black and yellow or orange.

And last but not least—Hallowe'en Greeting cards of the handsome Volland line. Send them to your distant friends.

Mrs. Wm. Dennison entertained on Saturday with a pretty informal luncheon for some of the Normal Club friends of Miss Lenore Morgan, who is her guest. Covers were laid for ten, and the color scheme used in the dining room and for table decoration was pink and white.

On Monday evening the Order of Eastern Star held their first business meeting of the season in the chapter hall. They will hold two meetings a month from this time on, the next meeting being a social one, and all those not attending the Grand Chapter sessions at San Diego are urged to be present.

Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Osgood entertained at dinner on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J.
Lawless, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ingraham, Mr. Herbert Ingraham, Hallet Johnson and Herndon Johnson of Sierra Madre, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marsh and Mr. Bruder of Pasadena, and Mrs. W. L. Hardison of Los Angeles.

The young people of the Christian Endeavor Society held a very jolly
"Out of Date" social in the church parlors last Friday night. About thirty young people were present and many quaint and comical costumes were seen. Games which were played by our fathers and mothers many years ago were enjoyed, and the refreshments carried out the idea of the social.

Several months ago the "California
Dry Federation" offered prizes of $100, $50 and $25 for the first, second and third best essays on the question
"Why should the voters of the state vote for the dry constitutional amendment?" A large number of essays were entered in the contest and the award has recently been made. It will be of interest to many Sierra Madre people to know that the first prize of $100 was won by Rev. Archibald McIntyre, formerly of Sierra Madre. He and his wife have gone to Holly, Colorado, where they are now making their home, and where Mr. McIntyre is active in a Colorado Dry campaign.

A. S. Mead spent the week in Sierra Madre and returned to Riverside today.

Mrs. F. R. Smith of Los Angeles was in this city on business on Tuesday.

Mrs. Olaf Lewis of Hollywood was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Adams on Tuesday.

Miss Ella Couch of Los Angeles was the week end guest of Mrs. William Dennison.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Patterson of Hollywood visited friends in Sierra Madre on Tuesday.

The next meeting of the Modern Pricillas will be held at the home of Mrs. James Hawks.

Miss Mildred Powell is spending the week end in Riverside as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Mead.

Lieutenant E. Phelps of the Presidio, San Francisco, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mason this week.

The Ancient Pricillas will hold their opening meeting at the home of Mrs.
W. S. Andrews on Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Hannaford were guests at a dinner party on Tuesday, given by Dr. and Mrs. Sperry of Highland Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Cabot Yerxa are the proud parents of a little son, weighing eight pounds, who arrived on Sunday, October 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dietz had as their dinner guests on Saturday night Captain and Mrs. J. A. Osgood and Mr.
and Mrs. W. W. Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Andrews, Mrs.
Kate Holmes, and Mrs. Beilsterling of Los Angeles were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Andrews.

Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Krebs attended the private view and reception of the California Art Club, given at the Exposition Park Museum on Tuesday.

The Dickens Fellowship will hold their first meeting next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martha Williamson on North Auburn avenue.
A full attendance is requested.

Mrs. C. S. McCulloch gave a jolly informal dinner party last week at Cypress Court, honoring the birthday anniversary of Mr. Armstrong. Covers were laid for seven.

Mr. and Mrs. Convers Twycross have returned from Ocean Park where they have been spending the summer months, and will remain in Sierra Madre to superintend the erection of their pretty bungalow on Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Spranger left on Tuesday night for their old home in Peru, Indiana, where they expect to make their future home. Mrs. Spranger's position in the office of the gas company will be filled by Miss Avis Preston.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational Church will give a chicken pie supper on Friday, October 16, at the church parlors. Price 40 cents per plate, the proceeds to be used for repairing the parsonage roof. Supper will be served from 6 o'clock on.

The first Ladies' Aid Society meeting of the season was held in the Congregational Church parlors on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Marcus Copps and Miss Rena Hathorn as hostesses. About 28 members were present, the meeting being strictly a business one.

On Wednesday morning at ten o'clock the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
John Poyd passed away at their home on Mira Monte avenue. Mr. and Mrs.
Poyd came to Sierra Madre for their daughter's health about a year ago.
The remains will be taken to their old home in Oregon.

New arrivals at Cypress Court this past week are: Mrs. C. Stone, Hollywood; Mrs. Lee L. Joslin, Los Angeles;
Mrs. Elizabeth J. Metcalfe, Burlington,
Vermont; Mr. Smith L. Loggins, Burlington, Vermont; Mr. E. C. A. Barber,
Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P.
Nicholson, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Gordon and daughter of Los Angeles.

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION.

More Liable to Generate in Powdered
Than in Solid Substances.

The scientific phrase for combustion is oxidation, or the combining of some substance with the oxygen of the air.
Some substances have greater affinity for oxygen than others, and whenever the combustion reaches a certain point of rapidity fire results.

Anything that increases the facility of combination with oxygen increases the danger of spontaneous combustion or explosion, and for that reason a substance is more dangerous when pulverized than when solid, because the separated particles of matter are brought more directly in contact with the oxygen of the air. There is no danger of spontaneous combustion or explosion in a mass of unground wheat, but mills have been destroyed by explosions of flour dust.

Fixed oils absorb oxygen and give out carbon and hydrogen, causing a rise of temperature that may reach the burning point, as has often occurred in heaps of rags, tow, sawdust and similar bodies soaked with oil, paint, varnish, turpentine and sometimes grease.
Bituminous coal is liable to spontaneous combustion when moistened with water, and the coal dust in mines is a common cause of explosions. Moisture aids spontaneous combustion in piles of damp hay or freshly mown grass, and barns have been burned down from that cause.—Philadelphia Press

The Jerboa.

The jerboa, which is found in the deserts of Nubia and Syria, resembles a very small kangaroo and has a rich brown fur. On the first alarm it leaps over the ground with lightning rapidity and disappears in its burrow.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Judge Charles G. Neely, professor of constitutional history and law in Pomona College, will speak on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Congregational Church, instead of President Blaisdell, who was announced last Sunday.

A Junior C. E. society was organized last Sunday afternoon, with sixteen members. The meetings will be held each Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The C. E. topic for Sunday evening is, "Next Steps for Our Society." Miss Maybelle Caley, the president of the society, is the leader.

There will be preaching at 7:30 in the evening.

The Los Angeles Association of Congregational Churches will meet with the First Congregational Church of Pasadena, on Monday afternoon, October 12, at 2:30 o'clock, closing on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Washington Gladden, D. D., of Columbus, Ohio, will speak on Monday evening and on Tuesday afternoon.

The tide of attendance in the Sunday school is rising, but there is still room for more.

W. H. HANNAFORD, Pastor.

IN THE HIGHLANDS.

In the highlands, in the country places,
Where the old plain men have rosy faces
And the young fair maidens quiet
eyes,
Where essential silence fills and blesses
And forever in the hill recesses
Her more lovely music broods and dies—

Oh, to mount again where erst I haunted;
Where the old red hills are bird enchanted
And the low green meadows bright with sward,
And when even dies, the million tinted,
And the night has come and planets glitter—
Lo, the valley below lamp bestar'd!

Oh, to dream; oh, to awake and wander
There and with delight to take and render Quiet breath!
Lo, for there among the flowers and grasses
Only the mightier movement sounds and Life and death!

—Robert Louis Stevenson.

THE PARTED WAYS.

I USED to know a little lad,
A youngster of thirteen,
Who wasn't very good or bad,
But somewhere in between
He had such freckles on his nose
As your nose seems to bear—
Indeed, I'd almost think that those Were some he used to wear.

HE used to have an old straw hat
All frazzled at the brim
Indeed, I'd almost think that that Came down to you from him.
And he had such a dog as now
Barks joyfully along With you—it makes me wonder how
It could have lived so long.

I KNOW not where it was or when,
But with his heart of song
He went and came not back again
And took his dreams along.
So some day in a little while He'll wave a sunbrowned hand
And leave you with his cheery smile—
And you will understand.

—James W. Foley.

IF.

YOU may not reach the gleaming height
Where those who have succeeded stand;
There may be few who day or night
Shall have to act when you command.

No flags may ever fly because
You ride bareheaded through the street,
And you may fail to win applause
Or sit in any judgment seat.

Your place may be a little nook,
But your success will not be slight
If always you can bravely look
Your conscience in the face at night.

—Chicago Record-Herald.

The More Notable.

"Which would you call more notable,
the prima donna's debut or her farewell?"
"Her farewell. Wouldn't you?"
"Don't know that I would. She can make but one debut."

Awkward.

A pretty schoolteacher, noticing one of her little charges idle, said sharply:
"John, the devil always finds something for idle hands to do. Come up here to me and let me give you some work."

WHY CALIFORNIA SHOULD VOTE DRY

By Hon. A. J. Wallace, Lieutenant Governor of California.

I want the liquor business of California entirely overthrown because it is an economic waste. It is a parasite

A. J. Wallace

I want the manufacture and sale of liquor prohibited because the traffic is a hindrance in the making of men.

I want the State to put its veto on the liquor business because the traffic is contrary to those principles that underlie the organization of a state.

Business may be intricate, but its first principles are simple. It is an exchange of commodities. It is buying and selling, and there must be advantage or gain in the barter. For continued commerce, the gain must extend to both parties to the transaction. If the resultant advantage of a business deal inures to the benefit of one party only, there is an economic defect. The buyer must benefit by his purchase as truly as the seller by his sale. In large matters the importing country is a gainer as truly as the exporting country. It is so with small matters. The buyer gets from the grocer flour, from the hardware man nails, from the lumber man lumber, and in each case buyer and seller are benefited. The same buyer goes to the saloon to get beer or wine or whisky. The dealer makes a profit on the goods sold. But here is a break in our business principles. The buyer makes no gain. He parts with his share of the barter, and gets nothing valuable in return. At every other counter there was gain on both sides, here the gain is on one side only. The transaction limps—it is false to business principles. It represents economic waste. It must cease.

The economic waste becomes a multiplied factor when the argument is extended to liquor's effect on the purchaser who consumes it.

The liquor traffic is a parasite. Any business blood that it has sucked from the vigorous body of healthful business. It contributes nothing, but draws heavily. If traffic in lumber, dry-goods, groceries, and other legitimate business gave no more value than liquor does, and yet received as these lines of business do, and as liquor does, all business would collapse. The quid pro quo would be lacking. If a town or city prospers where traffic in liquor is allowed, its prosperity is less than it should be by just so much as liquor takes. It gives nothing, and what it takes is so much subtracted from the general gain. It is a parasite—a leech.

A state is brought into governmental being to protect and help its people. When a state authorizes the doing of those things that injure its people, it is traitorous. Because the liquor traffic hampers business and burdens commerce, it must be eliminated; because it invades the home harmfully, it must be eradicated; because it injures men in the making, it is a menace to citizenship and its disloyalty condemns it; and, because it is hideously bad and in nowise good, the state that exists to serve its citizens must, through its awakened voters, utterly prohibit it.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

Their Coast Line is Longer Than That of the United States.

"It is not generally known perhaps that the coast line of the Philippine Islands is longer than that of the United States," said a man who has spent more than fifteen years in that country. "The Philippines are numerous islands," he continued. "It would take one many months to tour all of the islands. Of course the climate varies, but in most parts it is delightful. The average temperature is lower than in many parts of the United States, and the humidity is not nearly so great. Records of temperature in the Philippines have been kept since 1865, and in that time the maximum recorded was 103 degrees. The mean temperature is from 70 to 80 degrees.

"If the humidity were great there are times when it would be almost unbearable, but ordinarily I would rather live in the Philippines than in most sections of this country. It is fortunate that in the month of greatest humidity, September, the temperature falls lower than at any other time of the year, which makes it possible to endure the conditions.

"I have frequently been asked if there is much drinking among the Filipinos. There is comparatively very little. The Filipinos have discovered, even if some of our own countrymen have not, that alcoholic drinks and the tropics do not mix. It is seldom you see a Filipino intoxicated. There are native brewed drinks in different islands, but the people do not overindulge."—Washington Post.

Followed Copy.

Father (to little son returning from horseback ride)—Got a fall, did you? Well, I hope you didn't cry like a baby. Son—No, dad. I didn't cry. I just said one word—the same as you'd have said.—London Punch.

Bird Flights.

Eagles fly at a height of 9,000 feet, crows up to 4,500 feet. The lark rises 3,000 feet.

FREEDOM.

There is only one cure for evils which newly acquired freedom produces, and that cure is freedom. When a prisoner first leaves his cell he cannot bear the light of day; he is unable to discriminate colors or recognize faces. The remedy is to accustom him to the rays of the sun.

The blaze of truth and liberty may at first puzzle and bewilder nations which have become half blind in the house of bondage. But let them gaze on and they will soon be able to bear it. In a few years men learn to reason. The extreme violence of opinions subsides. Honest theories correct each other. The scattered elements of truth cease to contend and begin to coalesce. And at length a system of justice and order is deduced out of the chaos.

Many politicians of our time are in the habit of laying it down as a self evident proposition that no people ought to be free till they are fit to use their freedom. The maxim is worthy of the fool in the old story who resolved not to go into water till he had learned to swim. If men are to wait for liberty till they become wise and good in slavery they may indeed wait forever.—Macaulay.

A GIRL'S A GIRL FOR A' THAT.

Is there a lady in the land
That boasts her rank and a'
that?

With scornful eye we pass her
And little care for a' that;
For nature's charm shall bear
the palm—

A girl's a girl for a' that.

The nobly born may proudly scorn

A lowly lass and a' that;
A pretty face has far more grace

Than haughty looks and a'
that;

A bonnie maid needs no such aid—

A girl's a girl for a' that.

Then let us trust that come it must.

And sure it will for a' that.

When faith and love, all arts above

Shall reign supreme and a'
that;

And every youth confess the truth—

A girl's a girl for a' that.

—Author Unknown.

REFLECTIONS ON CRIME.

If poverty is the mother of crimes, want of sense is the father.—De La Bruyere.

Responsibility prevents crime.
—Burke.

Crime is not punished as an offense against God, but as prejudicial to society.—Froude.

A man who has no excuse for crime is indeed defenseless.—
Bulwer-Lytton.

The villainy you teach me I will execute, and it shall go hard, but I will better the instruction.—"Merchant of Venice."

Blood only serves to wash ambitious hands.—Byron.

FORTUNE AND HONOR.

To catch Dame Fortune's golden smile

Assiduous wait upon her,
And gather gear by every wile
That's justified by honor;
Not for to hide it in a hedge,
Not for a train attendant,
But for the glorious privilege
Of being independent

The fear o' hell's a hangman's whip

To haud the wretch in order,
But where ye feel your honor grip

Let ay that be your border.
Its slightest touches, instant
pause—

Debar a' side pretenses,
And resolutely keep the laws,
Uncaring consequences.

—Burns.

SAID OF THE TONGUE.

To many men well fitting doors
are not set on their tongues.— Theognis.

We may see cunning and envious work of nature, which hath barred and hedged nothing in so strongly as the tongue, with two rows of teeth, and therewith two lips. Besides, she hath placed it far from the heart, that it should not utter that which the heart had conceived. This also should cause us to be silent, seeing those that use much talk, though they speak truly, are never believed.
—Lyly.
